To whom it may concern,

Mr Piotr Dabrowski has been employed in our company both as an in-house proofreader and as a quality assurance manager. His duty was to ensure high quality of translations before them being delivered to our clients as well as to set up quality procedures and manage the team of 8 to 10 proofreaders with the aim of strengthening their motivation, ensuring their high productivity and quality of their work.

He has worked on a variety of often highly complex projects covering different fields of expertise such as oil & gas, automotive, industry automation, corporate communication and other; demanding the ability to quickly acquire new information, combine different CAT and QA tools in order to ensure terminology consistency and meet localization requirements across large sets of documentation.

We can highly recommend his services as he proved to be reliable, solution-oriented, effective and motivated.
